A Hanoi spokesman told UPI, "we shall receive the new group of American ladies at 5 p.m. at our delegation headquarters."

The spokesman said the audience will be for a group of five women from Oklahoma whose husbands have been missing in Vietnam.

LONG BINH, Vietnam (UPI) — The Army freed eight U.S. Green Berets today and sent them home to families jubilant that the military had dropped charges accusing them of murdering a Vietnamese civilian.

They were flying to Travis Air Force Base, Calif., tonight and were expected to get 30 days leave before reassignment outside Vietnam.

Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, of Vineyard Haven, Mass., once commander of all Green Berets in Vietnam, said for the first time he believed the man they had been charged with killing was a North Vietnamese double agent — something defense lawyers said all along.

Rheault made the remark shortly after Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor announced the Army was dropping the charges.

"It was like Christmas all over again," said Maj. David Crew, 33, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, one of the Berets.

Several of the Berets and their lawyers said C. O. Edward M. Boyle of New York, (Continued on Page Six)

The consensus of the meeting was that the most feasible route for the school board to take would be for them to accept the proposition forwarded by the Advisory Committee to the Murray City Council. This proposal is that the city sys-

Traffic Accidents Investigated Here By Trooper Adams

Kentucky State Trooper Tom Adams investigated two traffic collisions on Sunday. No injuries were reported in either of the accidents.

The first occurred about 4:45 p.m. at the intersection of the Penny-Airport Road and the Poor House farm road.

Cars involved were a Mustang driven by Fred Myers of Shady Oaks Trailer Court, Murray, and a Chevrolet driven by James H. Belcher of Almo Route One.

Belcher, going east on the Poor Farm Road, said his foot slipped off the brake pedal as he stopped for the Penny Road intersection, according to Trooper Adams. Myers was going north on the Penny Road.

Damage to the Belcher car was on the right front and to the Myers car on the left side. Sunday at eight p.m. a one car accident occurred on U.S. Highway 641 about 1.5 miles north of Murray.

Clara B. Smith of Chicago, Ill., driving a 1967 Buick, was going north on 641. Trooper Adams said as she came over a hill her car dropped off on the right shoulder of road where the new four-lane construction is taking place. Her car then flipped over on the top, Adams said.

No one was reported injured.

Marines Leave For Okinawa In Troop Withdrawal Today

By WALTER WHITEHEAD

SAIGON (UPI) — The first Marines earmarked for withdrawal under President Nixon's second troop cutback left for Okinawa today and B52 bombers raided the northern battlefield they used to patrol.

The B52s raided three times just below the border Demilitarized Zone, where Marines last week began abandoning gun bases for the trip out of the combat zone under President Nixon's 35,000-man pullout by Dec. 15.

Military spokesmen said the bombers dropped 270 tons of bombs onto Communist troop concentrations in their strikes,

Building Commission Gives Go Ahead In Session Today

The State Property and Building Commission this morning unanimously passed a resolution giving the go ahead to the construction of Murray State University's $5.2 million academic-athletic complex.

Governor Louie Nunn had ordered a halt to the construction on September 19 in order to review the plans in an effort to lower the cost of the complex.

Nunn said at that time that the action was ordered because the lowest bid received by the state for the construction of the complex was 33 percent higher than the architect's $3.9 million estimate on the cost.

The $5.2 million bid was submitted by the Clark Engineering and Construction Company of Owensboro. Approval of the bid by the state means that construction will be able to begin immediately.

The academic-athletic facility is to be a one-tier, 16,000 seat stadium with a natural grass playing field and space for the Athletic Department of the University and the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC).

Finance Commissioner Albert Christen, who recommended the halt to Governor Nunn, said at that time that "this is a sizable overrun (of the bid) and we just want to take a closer look at both the estimate and the bid before we allow the project to get under way."

The bid had a thirty day grace period which would have expired on October 6 (next Monday).

Murray's initial proposal for the athletic facility called for a synthetic turf to be used for the football field—costing an estimated $400,000—but the proposal was disapproved by the Finance Department.

Murray officials said the artificial turf would cut down on injuries, could be used under any weather conditions by area high schools and the university for a variety of activities, and would reduce maintenance costs because no watering would be necessary and mowing would be eliminated.

Completion of the project is expected to take about two years.

Henry Lett Waldrop was awarded a judgment of $3000.00 in a personal injury case heard Monday in Calloway Circuit Court with Judge James Lassiter presiding, according to the office of Circuit Court Clerk James Blalock.

Waldrop was given a judgment of $2000.00 against George and Max Lee Satterwhite and a judgment of $1000.00 against James Rudy Albritten, according to Blalock.

The suit was the result of an accident that occurred on Saturday, May 25, 1968, near the intersection of 8th and Sycamore Streets. Waldrop was walking along

Dr. Harry Sparks, Murray State President, said today that one of the reasons the estimated cost and the bid were so far apart was because of a general one percent per month inflationary increase in construction costs between the time the estimate was made and bids were received.

He added that the state's estimate also did not fully take into consideration the routing of a stream and removal of a city dump on part of the ground the complex is to occupy.

The complex along with the stadium, will be the location of Murray's military science department and will include many more finished areas than the Western Kentucky University stadium, similar in seating capacity, which cost 3.5 million.

"Murray just has more of a quality stadium," Sparks noted. Nunn said the question boiled down to "it is either highly inflated or we underestimated."

The consensus of the commission members was the increase that was caused by both.

Nunn said he did want to let emotions and political expediency get involved in the issue, but Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford and Atty. Gen. John Breckinridge, both Democrats and commission members, couldn't resist a few barbs.

Breckinridge pressed Finance Commissioner Albert Christen to find out where the error in estimate came, and added, "this has been a disillusioning and

Who Is Clement Furman Haynsworth?

By JAMES B. MEAD

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An analysis of the Haynsworth controversy. In question and answer form:

Q: Who is he?

A: Clement Furman Haynsworth Jr., 56, a well-to-do Greenville, S.C. lawyer, "the fifth generation of a long and illustrious line of South Carolina lawyers" according to Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C. He was appointed to the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of appeals by President Dwight D. Eisenhower 12 years ago and has been its chief judge since 1964. President Nixon nominated Haynsworth to the Supreme Court seat vacated by Abe Fortas' resignation. The Senate Judiciary Committee is considering his nomination.

Q: Do we have another Fortas affair?

A: Not exactly. Haynsworth's critics have brought up nothing to match the disclosure that cost Fortas his Supreme Court seat—the fact that he had a $20,000-a-year contract to help a charitable foundation headed by Louis Wolfson, a financier later jailed for stock irregularities.

Fortas vs. Haynsworth. But there are similarities. Neither man was accused of dishonesty, but both are rich and critics say their outside sources of money offend the image of judicial purity. Even before the Wolfson tie was disclosed, the Senate denied Fortas the chief justiceship. He was criticized for taking a $15,000 law school lecture fee contributed by businessmen and former clients, and for advising President Lyndon B. Johnson—a breach of the separation of powers, his critics said.

Haynsworth neither moonlights nor hobnobs with presidents. He has roughly $1 million worth of stocks and bonds, divided among 46 companies. And he made more than $400,000 from a vending machine company he and a few friends started, operated and finally sold.

Critics contend Haynsworth failed to disqualify himself from at least two cases in which he had a financial interest, however slight or indirect. On one, he was accused of directly violating a canon of judicial ethics. One witness said the judge also ruled on 12 cases involving former law clients—and ruled in their favor 10 of the 12 times.

With some exceptions, the senators most disturbed by Fortas' nonjudicial activities were conservatives who disliked his liberal court opinions concerning pornography, restrictions on Communists, civil rights and rights of criminal defendants. Many Republicans didn't want to confirm a Lyndon Johnson "crony" just before Johnson left the White House.

Liberals vs. Haynsworth. With some exceptions, the senators most disturbed by Haynsworth's investment conflicts are Liberals who dislike his conservative court opinions in civil rights and labor cases. Many Democrats also believe Haynsworth's appointment by Nixon might have been a post-election payoff to Sen. Thurmond.

Q: What was the vending machine case?

A: In 1950, Haynsworth and four Greenville friends founded Carolina Vend-A-Matic Co. Haynsworth's investment was $3,000, and he was made a vice president and director. The company prospered, placing vending machines in textile mills and other factories. By 1963, its customers included three mills owned by subsidiaries of Deering Milliken Corp. The business totaled about $100,000 a year, roughly 3 percent of Carolina Vend-A-Matic's income.

The same year, another Deering Milliken subsidiary, Darlington Manufacturing Co., came before Haynsworth's court in a landmark dispute with the Textile Workers Union. The company had closed a textile mill in the wake of a labor dispute. Could it do so or was it an illegal effort to strangle union organizing efforts? Haynsworth wrote the court's 3 to 2 ruling favoring the company. The Supreme Court reversed it, partially on information Haynsworth's court did not have.

Critics contend Haynsworth should have disqualified himself because of the Carolina Vend-A-Matic business. Haynsworth, backed by the American Bar Association (ABA) and the Justice Department, argued it was a "third party" connection, not a direct one, and said he had a duty to sit on the case.

Haynsworth also said he did not work for Carolina Vend-A-Matic after becoming a judge except to arrange financing and attend directors meetings. He said he instructed the firm's manager to avoid telling customers of his connection, and sold his share for $437,710 after complaints about the Darlington case made his interest known.

Q: What was the Brunswick case?

A: On Nov. 10, 1967 Haynsworth and two other judges heard lawyers argue a dispute between Brunswick Corp. and a Charleston, S.C., landlord over 10 seven-year-old bowling lanes and pinsetters. The bowling alley proprietor had defaulted on both its payments to Brunswick and its rent to the landlord.

The judges agreed that afternoon to uphold a lower court's decision. It gave the landlord the rent he had lost so far, but not that for the rest of the lease period, and gave Brunswick the used bowling equipment.

Judge Harrison L. Winter was assigned to write the decision. Haynsworth said he promptly forgot the matter. On Dec. 15, his stockbroker recommended Brunswick agreed, and the broker brought him $16,000 worth Dec. 26.

When Winter circulated his opinion for approval by the other judges, Haynsworth remembered. He recalled being "very sorry" he bought the stock, he told the Senate committee, but decided it would be a "futile exercise" to disqualify himself and start the case over. Both Haynsworth and Winter said it was a simple case with all judges in agreement. Haynsworth told one of his stock holdings, signed the ruling, and a few months later denied the landlord a rehearing.

Nixon's Praise

The case was small and set no precedent for other Brunswick takeovers. Haynsworth owns less than one tenthousandth of Brunswick's stock. Canon 26 of the ABA canons of judicial ethics states: "A judge should abstain from making personal investments in enterprises which are apt to be involved in litigation in the courts; and, after his accession to the bench, he should not retain such investment previously made."

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., who led the fight against Fortas, commented that the people wanted a "strict constructionist" of the judicial canons. Haynsworth denied violating it but said he would never repeat the action. Winter praised Haynsworth but said he would not have bought the stock.

Q: Did Haynsworth profit from either the Deering Milliken or Brunswick case?

A: Even his strongest critics have not made this charge.

Q: Is the Nixon Administration backing off in its support of Haynsworth?

A: It has given no such indication, and White House News Secretary Ronald Ziegler said Nixon stands behind his high praise of Haynsworth. But the Brunswick case was a surprise, and the Vend-A-Matic one raised more opposition than the Justice Department expected. Most observers, including some Republican senators, speculate if Nixon knew then what he knows now he might have picked someone else.

Q: Will Haynsworth be confirmed?

A: Probably, but not without a fight. Organized labor and civil rights leaders are convinced his past rulings indicate a strong antilabor, anticivil rights bias. AFL-CIO President George Meany told the committee it was only the second time in 40 years his organization had openly opposed a Supreme Court nominee. Eight of the nine black congressmen said they opposed Haynsworth. Few senators have committed themselves, but he is likely to be opposed by a number of Liberal Democrats and probably by a few Republicans. A filibuster threat was the final blow to Fortas' chief justice nomination. There's a whiff of revenge in the air, and the same tactic by Haynsworth's opponents is possible.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Final testing gets under way this week for the launch of three Navy pilots Nov. 14 on an expedition planned to put two men on the moon for almost a day and a half.

The latest mission plan for the nation's second lunar landing calls for Apollo 12 astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., 39, Richard F. Gordon, 39, and Alan L. Bean, 37, to spend nearly four days on or around the moon—29 hours longer than the fliers of Apollo 11.

Apollo 12 will swing into lunar orbit Nov. 17 and Conrad and Bean will land on the vast Ocean of Storms Nov. 19 while Gordon remains in orbit. All three will begin the return Nov. 21 and splashdown in the Pacific Nov. 24.

Apollo 12's landing target on the moon is 830 miles west of Apollo 11's Tranquility base and if Conrad and Bean are lucky, they will touch down within walking distance of the little Surveyor 3 robot spacecraft that landed on the moon in 1967.

Because of the success of Apollo 11's moonwalk pioneers, Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., Conrad and Bean will spend more than twice as much time walking the lunar surface on two 3½-hour excursions.

Experiments on Moon

They will set up a more sophisticated geophysical station than Apollo 11's, collect more carefully documented rock samples and attempt to inspect the Surveyor 3 robot spacecraft that landed on the moon in 1967.

Conrad and Bean and backup pilots David R. Scott and James B. Irwin plan to conduct a dress rehearsal of their moonwalk Monday and Tuesday in the astronaut training building. Wearing pressurized moon suits and talking to the mission control center in Houston, they will practice setting up instruments and carrying out surface experiments.

On Tuesday, Apollo 12's towering Saturn 5 rocket and its three moonship modules will be put through the final portion of a critical flight readiness test on Launch Pad 39A, the scene of Apollo 11's historic blastoff July 16.

The exercise is a final overall test of all the space machine's flight systems and ground support equipment. Conrad, Gordon and Bean are expected to take part in a portion of the test and electronically simulate key portions of their mission.

In Good Shape

Launch Director Walter J. Kapryan said the Apollo 12 rocket and moonship have proceeded smoothly through check-out procedures to date "and in general our posture is good."

Veterans Questions and Answers

Q—I am a veteran attending college. Does the law require that I submit a monthly certificate of attendance?

A—No. But during the last full month of your quarter, semester or term, you will receive a certificate of attendance which must be completed and returned to the Veterans Administration as soon as possible. Failure to complete and return this form will bar you from future educational assistance.

Q—I have a G. I. loan on my home. I want to borrow money on my equity in the home for my child's education. Is it necessary to obtain approval of the Veterans Administration for such a loan?

A—No. However, a G. I. loan cannot be obtained for this purpose.

Q—I am an eligible veteran taking a correspondence course. Do I have to submit a monthly certificate of attendance for such a loan?

A—No, but you do have to submit the Veterans Administration a certificate of lessons completed and serviced each quarter or every three months. This card is partially completed by you. The remainder of the card is completed by the school which must certify to the completed lessons for that quarter. This card, when sent to VA, starts the checks coming.

Q—I am attending school under the G. I. bill. If I want to increase or decrease the amount of semester or clock hours, what do I have to do?

A—When changing your status you must tell the VA. A notice of change-in-status form is available at most schools or at your nearest VA office.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and have a 20-year insurance endowment policy which will mature in a few months. Do I have to take the face value of the policy or can I convert to another plan of insurance?

A—You may exchange for a policy of lesser cash value, if you present evidence of good health. This must be done, however, before the present policy matures.

Q—Can a veteran go to any school or take up any program he desires?

A—Yes, if the school or program is approved by the proper state education approving agency.

The last big test before launch is a week-long countdown rehearsal scheduled to begin Oct. 23. It will include fueling the Saturn 5 rocket and the astronauts will participate as if the exercise were the real thing.

Because all three pilots are Navy commanders, they have selected a sea-going design as their mission emblem. It shows a 19th century clipper ship in full sail zooming in for a landing on the moon.

The pilots have called their craft "Moby Dick" and "Bunag Two" in recent training sessions but a final decision on the names has not been reached.

Today is Tuesday Sept. 30, the 273rd day of 1969 with 92 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1846 Dr. William Morton, a dentist in Charleston, Mass., extracted a tooth for the first time with the help of anesthesia.

In 1938 Germany, France, Britain and Italy met in Munich for a conference which British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain said promised "peace in our time." The "peace" lasted exactly 337 days.

In 1953 President Dwight D. Eisenhower appointed California Governor Earl Warren chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

In 1962 two persons were killed during riots marking integration of the University of Mississippi.

A thought for the day: Louis Kaufman Anspercher said, "Marriage is that relation between man and woman in which the independence is equal, the dependence mutual and the obligation reciprocal."

Hair dried by the summer sun? Counteract the condition with an occasional warm olive oil treatment before a shampoo. Part the hair at half-inch intervals, apply the oil, and wrap a hot towel around your head for half an hour to let the oil steam in. Then shampoo your hair, lathering at least three times to remove the oil.

Dear Abby

Two can't live as cheaply as one!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I rented a room to a very nice, young professor who's about 28 years old. He is a perfect gentleman, neat and quiet and he always pays his rent on time, but here is the problem:

For the past month he has had a young lady staying with him. He didn't "sneak" her in. She came in with her suitcase and moved in with him like she is his wife. He didn't introduce her to me. I saw her thru the window. He never said he had a wife. But he never said he didn't. They leave early in the morning (she works, and he teaches) and they come home together late in the evening. They go away every week-end and there is never a chance to have any conversations with them.

I rented the room as a "single." I have no idea how long she plans to stay with him. Should I charge him double?

LANDLADY IN URBANA

DEAR LANDLADY—If your "single" is sleeping double, charge him accordingly. It's time these two lovebirds learned that two can't live as cheaply as one.

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those women who had her only child late in life—like 45.

My daughter is 6 years old now and every once in a while some clod will ask her if she is spending the day with "GRANNY"—meaning ME!

Can you supply a good squelch-type answer? A remark like this ruins my day. Thank you.

NO "GRANNY"

DEAR NO: You had better develop a thicker hide. Clods are not for squelching.

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those foolish wives who insisted that my husband wear his wedding ring at all times. My husband is a maintenance mechanic, and this is what happened—Yesterday, I received a call informing me that my husband was at the hospital! While jumping off a construction truck, he caught his ring on a piece of metal and his finger was practically torn off. I was told he was lucky he wasn't killed as he lost his balance and fell under the wheels of the truck.

Abby, please put this in your column as a warning to other women who want their husbands to wear their wedding rings to work.

DEAR WIFE: Thank you for your letter. And while we're on the subject, read this one:

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were married we had a double-ring ceremony, and he promised he would never take his wedding ring off. And he never did. After a few years he gained a little weight and couldn't get it off. My husband was an electrician. Well, to make a long and very tragic story short, his wedding ring wore a tiny hole thru his insulated glove and a fatal contact was made. He died instantly. When his lifeless body was examined, the only sign of injury was a small burn where his wedding ring encircled his finger.

ELECTRICIAN'S WIDOW

So . . . Dear Wife, if your husband works around machines or electricity, tell him to leave ALL rings at home. If you really love him, that is.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALL MEN BETWEEN 16 AND 60: You are in the privileged position of being able to do the "asking." You may be big, handsome, talented, and popular, but unless you have a heart you're nothing. When you attend a dance or a party, pay special attention to at least three girls who are not popular. Find something to compliment them for. Make them feel a little prettier, then watch them "bloom" and actually become prettier before your eyes. Among the quiet, plain-appearing girls are those with special qualities. Modesty, humility, generosity, virtue, and depth. For that is where they usually can be found.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Miss Twila Adams Becomes Bride Of Danny M. Dunn In Beautiful Ceremony At Coldwater United Methodist Church

Mr. and Mrs. Danny M. Dunn

Miss Twila Ann Adams exchanged wedding vows with Danny M. Dunn in a double ring ceremony at the Coldwater United Methodist Church on Saturday, August 9.

Rev. Danny Underwood performed the ceremony at two-thirty o'clock in the afternoon as the couple stood in front of the altar centered with a white wrought iron arch entwined with lilies of the valley. Arrangements of white gladioli in white baskets with white satin bows were used on each side of the arch. White candles were flanking the side of the arch to add elegance to the wedding scene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cody W. Adams of Farmington Route One and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Dunn of Murray Route Three.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Mickie Morton, pianist, and the Silver-tone Sisters composed of Misses Gale Broach, Emily Ross, Darlene Oliver, and Teresa Joseph. The girls sang "When I Fall in Love". Mrs. Morton played "Because", "Ave Maria", and the wedding marches for the procession and the recessional. "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as the couple knelt for the prayer.

Bride's Dress

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown, fashioned and made by her mother. The floor length dress was of white satin fashioned with an empire waist trimmed in white lace. The dress was made with a round neckline and was sleeveless. She wore a mantilla head piece that extended to the floor and it was edged in lace.

She carried a summer bouquet of assorted colors of roses, white carnations, and baby's breath. Miss Stacy Adams, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor.

Reception

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen under white net and was caught at the sides with green scallops. Centering the table was an arrangement of carnations and white gladioli flanked by crystal candleholders holding white tapers.

The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a bride and groom statuette. Green sherbert punch was served from the crystal punchbowl. Serving at the table were Janet Gregory and Francis Gregory. Miss Denise Parker presided at the register.

After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip and are now at home on Murray Route Three.

The bride is a graduate of

Nu Phi Mu (Phi Alpha Eta) Chapter Is Formed Here For Girls Of Ages 18 to 21

The Nu Phi Mu (Phi Alpha Eta) chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Mrs. Sharon Carroll on Monday, September 22.

Miss Pam Wood presented the program at the meeting. Mrs. Carroll, president, presided at the business meeting during which a lengthy discussion on rushing and names for rushees was held.

Mrs. Carroll served refreshments. On Monday, September 18, the chapter met with the discussion being on the presentation of a three-star rating card from International for the work of the previous year.

Mrs. Carroll read of the death and memorial of the founder of the sorority, Walter Ross. The meeting was closed with the regular ritual.

The Nu Phi Mu chapter was formed last year by the Gamma Gamma Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi of Murray. They decided to start a "friendly adventure" which blossomed into the new chapter for young women, ages eighteen to twenty-one.

The members of Murray's Phi Alpha Eta of Nu Phi Mu of Beta Sigma Phi were initiated into the sorority by pledging to the Ritual of the Badge.

The ceremony took place on June 13, 1969, as a completion of six months pledgeship and a final written and oral test.

The chapter had a full pledgeship. They had many money-making projects such as a turkey raffle, selling International Cookbooks, a bake sale and many other things. They did a service project at Christmas consisting of buying fruit cakes and shaving cream to help fill stockings for the soldiers at Ft. Campbell hospital in work with the American Red Cross.

The most exciting event of the pledgeship was participating in the Founder's Day Banquet. This event was held at the Holiday Inn in Murray. Several other chapters of Beta Sigma Phi also attended from nearby cities. The new chapter was responsible for the table decorations.

Preceding the ritual the new officers were installed. The new officers consisted of Mrs. Sharon Carroll as president, Miss Pam Wood, vice-president; Miss Doty Bucy, extension officer; Miss Calloway County High School and Murray State University. Her sorority is Alpha Sigma Alpha. The groom, graduate of Calloway County High School, attended Murray State University and is now self employed in farming.

Rehearsal Party

Following the rehearsal on Friday evening, August 8, the group was entertained with a party at the church fellowship hall.

Sandra Garland, recording secretary; Miss Paula Wood, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Beverly Hopkins as treasurer. Other existing members are Miss Sherri Williams, Mrs. Linda Fain, and Mrs. Shirley McKinney.

A business meeting followed the ritual and the installation. It was then the Chapter from International was presented. Following the adjournment of the meeting, refreshments were served. A gift of appreciation was also presented to Mrs. John Emerson, pledge counselor to the chapter.

Thank You

I am happy to report that my wife is on the way to recovery in the Baptist Hospital in Nashville, Tennessee, after having surgery of the spine. People from every walk of life have been so nice to us. We are grateful for every prayer, the many cards, the telephone calls, the beautiful flowers, and for each and every expression of concern.

A beautiful floral arrangement came from my Republican opponent and his fine wife, Mavis. Even though we may oppose each other politically, we can still be the greatest of friends and Max has practiced this philosophy all through our campaign.

Election time is drawing near. Again I solicit your vote and influence. If elected as your State Representative I promise to work for each and every tax payer in the district. Vote Democratic on November 4th. Vote for Guy Lovins for State Representative of Calloway and Trigg Counties.

Lawn Weeds Should Be Treated Now

By G. Emerson Jones
Area Extension Agent in Weed Control

Many broadleaf weeds in lawns can be controlled by chemicals in the fall. Some of the weeds that can be controlled by treatments in September, October, or early November are dandelion, plantain, mustards, wild garlic, and wild onion. For controlling chickweed in the lawn, one of the products containing silvex or banvel - D should be used. Recommended materials are (a) 2,4-D, (b) 2,4,5-T, (c) silvex, or (d) banvel-D. These materials are sold under various trade names as single materials (2, 4-D, for instance) or combinations (2, 4-D, and silvex). For rates to use, follow directions on the label of the containers in which the material is purchased. Care should be taken to avoid a spray-drift to desirable plants.

The chemicals frequently do not act as quickly in fall as in the spring when weather conditions are more favorable, but they will be effective if properly applied. Annual weeds such as crabgrass and foxtail are in evidence now in the lawn, but good control can't be easily obtained this late in the season. Wait until early next spring before treating to control the latter two weeds.

Be sure to store all pesticides out of reach of children and pets.

PICKS UP SIGNALS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission reports it has picked up seismic signals from the Soviet Union and mainland China equivalent to "a nuclear test in the low intermediate range." The commission, as is its policy, did not definitely identify the signals as having been caused by an atomic blast. Both were recorded last week, one from northwest China and the other from an area south of Volgograd.

HALF-WAY POINT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department says it has reached the half-way point in a 15-year survey to bring U.S. land measurements up to an accuracy of less than one inch for every 12 miles. The survey was undertaken for increased accuracy in tracking satellites and will be used for detecting movements of the earth's surface. It is being carried out at night, with the aid of the North Star and laser beams, from towers 10 to 20 miles apart along routes across the country.

LANE RESIGNS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Lane (Ret.), has resigned as president of the Americans for Constitutional Action. Lane, who also gave up his seat on the organization's board of trustees, said the press of other activities and commitments forced him to leave the political action organization.

Advice from Madame Nina:

"My husband looks much younger than I do."

Dear Mme. Nina: I suppose you'll tell me that a million women wish they had my problem... a handsome young-looking husband.

Actually, I'm three years this fellow's junior but sometimes I think I must look like his mother.

Every morning I seem to find another wrinkle. Can you help?

Dear Losing: Take heart! There is now a new-type cream, called Genava, created by my famous Nina laboratories. With it, your skin can start looking younger and younger instead of older and older. The ingredients of Genava, a substance new to cosmetics, stimulate your own skin cells to increase moisture. This "plumps up" your cells (the secret of a young girl's natural complexion).

In clinical tests, small wrinkles and little crow's-feet disappeared, and even the deepest wrinkles showed great improvement. This was the report of a noted dermatologist who tested the ingredients of my Genava. And all my friends say the same.

P.S. Not one million — twenty million women wish they had your problem.

Madame Nina of Paris, three times winner of the French "Honneur au merite" medal for her cosmetic contributions.

We enjoy watching the Angel Fish move in silent formation across the tank. They all point the same way as they glide skillfully along propelled by the minutest motions of tiny fins. The big Angel, which measures about six or seven inches from top to bottom, will have little to do with the smaller ones. He spends his day with his head in one corner of the tank.

The two Mystery Snails, large as silver dollars, unravel the minutes of the day by gliding across the bottom or sides of the tank or by hanging motionless. A glamorous existence.

Lady the dog acted as though she was hungry this morning. We found little to give her, so just fried her an egg. Break the yellow real good and let it fry harder than usual, then cut it up and let it cool. She goes for this and does not even ask for salt and pepper.

The army has released the Green Berets charged with murdering a double agent whose body could never be found. What Tommy rot. They should never have been charged in the first place. Public opinion and the complete lack of a case against them probably accounted for their release.

tem be given $50,000 per year for a period of five years only with the funds to be applied to the construction of the vocational school which will serve Calloway and parts of two other counties.

The $50,000 would come from the payroll tax which is being considered by the city administration. The payroll and occupational license tax is being considered to provide substantial revenue in order that the city might accomplish several projects which the administration deems vital. This includes adding three new policemen, three new firemen, setting up a reserve fund for the city, setting up a capital outlay fund for the city, purchase of a new fire truck to protect the present fire insurance rates, and several other points which are deemed necessary for continued progress.

Several members of the school board are in Frankfort today in conjunction with the proposed vocational school.

The men were arrested July 21 and accused of slaying Thai-Khac Chuyen June 20 near Nha Trang on the South China Sea, 188 miles northeast of Saigon. They allegedly dumped his weighted body into the sea. Navy divers failed to find a body.

a bus 35 miles east of Saigon Monday, killing 11 civilians and wounding six, communiques said.

In Saigon Monday night, terrorists shot to death a South Vietnamese army captain and wounded his girl friend as the couple sat in a park in the Cholon district. The gunmen escaped.

Refusing to say exactly how many Leathernecks from the 3rd Marine Division departed this morning, the U.S. Command issued this statement:

"Slightly over 1,000 personnel with varying tours of duty in Vietnam are being airlifted to Okinawa for individual assignments with the 9th Marine Amphibious Brigade."

It added that the withdrawal of 4,900 more Marines would begin Wednesday, with all of them headed back to the United States by Monday.

Leathernecks still manning one post just below the Demilitarized Zone DMZ came under attack Monday when Communist troops shelled their gun base with mortar rounds. Headquarters reported light casualties.

It was one of six overnight rocket or mortar attacks against Allied towns and camps, military spokesmen said. Three waves of B52 bombers raided North Vietnamese hideouts below the DMZ at the same time.

Headquarters this morning reported but one large battle from Monday, involving troops of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division in a six-hour fight 280 miles northeast of Saigon.

Military spokesmen said the American troops killed 25 North Vietnamese with the help of helicopter gunships, bombers and artillery strikes. Two GIs were killed and eight wounded, the announcement said.

SURVEY REPORT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A survey of 2,000 college seniors reports that although 79 per cent were sympathetic with the goals of various protest movements, they were still not "fully committed to the ideals they are talking about." The survey was made by Dr. Jeffrey K. Hadden of Tulane University and published in the October issue of Psychology Today. Among other things, Hadden reported that 73 per cent of those interviewed were sympathetic to the problems of the city but 78 per cent said they would prefer the suburban style of life.

Income Tax Questions and Answers

Q — I'm now retired and have Social Security and my company pension to live on. Will any of this be taxable?
A — Social Security benefits are not taxable. Your company pension may or may not be taxable depending on whether you contributed to its cost.

If the pension plan is of a type where the pensioner's cost is recoverable within the first three years, the pension is tax-free until this cost is fully recovered. After that, the full pension is taxable income.

One provision you should check is the retirement income credit. When certain conditions are met, this provision allows a taxpayer to reduce his income tax by up to 15 percent of his retirement income.

Details on these provisions are given in IRS Publication 524, Retirement Income and Retirement Income Credit. Send a post card to your District Director for a free copy.

Q — I receive my room and meals at college free of charge for working in the dining hall. Is there any tax on this?

A — The fair market value of room and board received as compensation for work is usually taxable income. If this plus any other income you have amounts to $600 or more for the year, you will have to file a tax return.

Remember that if your earnings from all sources were less than $600 and any Federal income tax was withheld, a return must be filed to obtain a refund.

Q — This is the first year my income will be high enough so that I'll have to file a tax return. Is there anything I can do to avoid having to pay any tax at the end-of-the-year?

A — If taxes are withheld from your wages, any increase in the amount withheld will reduce the chances of having additional tax to pay when you file your 1969 return. Your withholding can be increased by not claiming all your withholding exemptions or by having additional amounts withheld through an agreement with your employer.

Note that if you do not claim all the exemptions you are entitled to for withholding purposes you have not forfeited your right to claim them at a later date. You can, and should claim all exemptions you are entitled to on your income tax return.

Q — Is there a tax advantage in having shares of stock registered in both the husband's and the wife's name?

A — Yes. The owner of stock is generally entitled to exclude from his income up to $100 in dividends, but a married person may not use his spouse's exclusion if the stock is individually owned. If stock is jointly owned, each could receive up to $100 in dividends tax free.

Q — I've just opened my own business. What can you tell me about my Federal tax responsibilities?

A — Information on taxes and withholding requirements can be obtained by contacting your local IRS office. Publications are available that cover these subjects.
